Presented and read on July 1832.

Although the balance sheet of Schürmann, taken on October 12, 1826, in connection with the inheritance of Marie Engel Pimpe von Powe, shows a net income of 87 rt [Reichsthaler] 11 * [Good pennies?] 3/5 [Pfg] from the Ellerbeck parish in Scheldehausen, it also reveals that the colonist-owner is burdened with debts of 1850 rt. Consequently, according to the regulations of December 5, 1768, and July 27, 1779, the compensation for a departing child would be very modest, especially since, in addition to the heir, there are 7 children to be compensated. Therefore, we cannot be persuaded to approve the admission of the heir Clamor Schürmann to the Lutheran Missionary Institute in Berlin with a capital of 400 rt and its transfer to the Schürmann Colonat in Ellerbeck, as the compensation for the heir would fall far short of this sum if a precupium (advance inheritance) were granted for the relinquished inheritance rights.

We announce this to the district court on the 12th of this month,
