Meierfarm (Meierhof)

A Meierfarm or Meyerfarm (from Latin: maiores villae) was a farm or building that was occupied or had been occupied by the administrator (the Meier) of a noble or ecclesiastical estate.

The similar Sedelhof was a tax-exempt farm building owned by a noble that was unfortified.